Prologue

*Curtain again. Well, well! Here's thanks to you.
For lo! It rises on the self-same boards
It's risen on these many years; the paste-board swords,
Profs, gilded youth, tableaux, and maidens too,
All these you've seen before;—acted anew,
The same old comedy. The same old words,
Gesture in air, and tunes, and supes, and lords
Crave your applause—in annual review.*

*They thank you and they greet you, and they know
They can repay you, even amuse you. For
They are real actors on their little stage,
And enter, hand on heart, lined up in row,
Kissing their fingers to you, auditor.—
Make way, then! Bow the prologue off the page.*

To
PROFESSOR JEAN CORRODI MOOS

WHOSE KINDLINESS, UNASSUMING MODESTY, DEEP SINCERITY, AND WHOLE-HEARTED INTEREST IN THE WELFARE OF THE STUDENTS AND OF OUR ALMA MATER HAS ASSURED HIM A PLACE IN THE HEART OF EVERY BETHANY STUDENT THIS BOOK IS RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED

DEDICATION

To be respected as a professor and at the same time regarded as a friend by every member of the student body, faculty, and alumni is a distinction which few win. Yet this is the place which Jean Corrodi Moos has held through twenty-five years of Bethany's history. Since he came to our college as Director of the Department of Music in 1897, Professor Moos has given his best efforts and the benefits of a keenly trained and alert mind to old Bethany.

Bethany, like most great institutions, has had her dark days of discouragement and difficulty as well as the sunshiny days of success and achievement. But through rain or shine she has always been able to count among her resources the steadfast and unflinching loyalty of Professor Moos. We seldom hear him talk about what he is "going to do," but under his direction plans seem to unfold themselves and success is assured. His service to Bethany is characterized by unpretentiousness, reserve, and dignity.

There is another way in which Professor Moos has endeared himself to all—his exceptionally pleasing sense of humor. Our college memories are enriched by recollections of his short talks and announcements. It matters not whether they be about Athletics, Glee Club, or some Academic subject; and it matters not in what mood his audience may be, the response is bound to be happy.

Radium we are told is the only thing more rare than genius. Bethany, then, is most fortunate in her possession of such a man as Professor Moos. He is so intimately a part of our college atmosphere that we can never fully express our appreciation of him.

OLD BETHANY

*There is a spot where autumn leaves
In myriad tints bedeck the trees,
And golden vines sway in the breeze;*

*Where evening zephyrs o'er the hills
Bring music from the rippling rills,
And nature knows the rap-trous thrills,
'Tis Bethany, Old Bethany.*

*There is a spot where spring delays
To take her course to other ways,
And tree and shrub respond her praise;*

*Where downy sward and violet blue
And columbines of varied hue,
In rev'rence court the evening dew,
'Tis Bethany, Old Bethany.*

*There is a spot where summer days
Are warm and light with golden rays
And vale and hills are all ablaze;*

*Where cozy nooks and lovely fens,
When limpid falls and ferny glens,
Are better far than priceless gems,
'Tis Bethany, Old Bethany.*

*There is a spot where winter screens
The rolling hills and gurgling streams,
With airy, fairy, feathery, sheens;*

*Where star-lit skies with crystal gleam
And moon and earth with transport seem,
To hail the glory of One Supreme,
'Tis Bethany, Old Bethany.*

Parting Lines

*We must leave, though we fain would stay longer,
Longer stay in the college we love.
We sit in the shade of her trees and we ponder,
Shall we ever return and our loyalty prove?
For to service we hear the world call us,
Oh the world does not will that we longer here stay,
But the thoughts that forever we have so appall us,
That in sorrow and sadness now turn we away.
So full of cheer,
Bethany dear!*

*Up 'mongst the green hills, Bethany stands,
And though we have grieved her,
We pray as we leave her,
That we may deserve this Mater so grand.*

*The parting draws nearer, the hours do not linger,
And now the last sweet days have come,
When Bethany fair though we long yet to linger,
We must turn and must go each our way alone,
For Bethany cannot keep us forever,
Nor do we desire that we longer might stay,
But Oh it is hard those true friendships to sever!
It is hard from our carefree life to break 'way.
So full of cheer,
Bethany dear!*

*Up 'mongst the green hills Bethany stands,
And though we have grieved her,
We pray as we leave her,
That we may deserve this Mater so grand.*

*For she will keep growing, while we will go striving
In the big world full of hard knocks and care.
But we know that her heart will be glad if we're thriving
And we know, though removed far, her love will still share,
And if we succeed in the work we have planned for,
Her true praise will thrill us far more than the rest,
For we'll feel that we've held to the ideals she stands for,
And in her glad smile we'll be honored and blest.
So full of cheer,
Bethany dear!*

*Up 'mongst the green hills Bethany stands,
And O may no base thought,
In our coming life blot
The pure inspiration we've had from her hands!*

POST GRADUATE

JOEL LEE JONES, A.B., A.M.

TRANNSYLVANIA UNIVERSITY

History of the Class of 1922

Looking back over the dim and dusty files of our long record at Bethany, we are inspired to sing once again our own praises before closing forever our account with our Alma Mater. Bethany, in one sense our books are balanced for you have given us of your best; but how does our side of the account stand? Our debt to you is one which can never fully be paid. It is a debt that calls for our abiding love and loyalty.

When, as gay and jaunty freshmen, we became enrolled as "regular students of Bethany College," we were the largest group that had at any one time besieged your halls. Oh, fateful 1918! Oh, youth and boundless activity, where art thou? With representatives in every college organization, we took the city, yea, and threatened the citadel.

Nineteen-nineteen saw us steadier and much sobered, but wise as only "sophs" can be. I hear a voice cry out in prophesy, "We are looking far into the future, and are already searching for the higher peaks we must mount * * * in the two remaining years of our college life we intend to acquire those attributes which will make us 'The Perfect Senior.'"

We entered upon our Junior year with forty-eight of our original roll. We carried our full share of college activities and responsibilities, amongst others the deficit on Publications! And when, last June, Nineteen Twenty-one filed out robed in all her Senior dignity, we moved up into the seats of the mighty in chastened silence. And now as we draw near the close of our Senior year we seem to see more clearly what might have been! We grasp more and more eagerly at the hem of the garment of Knowledge, and feel a growing sense of humility take hold upon us. Can it be that, with Socrates, we are beginning to know that we do not know?

I, Historian of the Class of Nineteen Hundred Twenty-two, dip my pen for the last time to express a two-fold wish: To my class-mates I wish true self-realization in the world's work, to all ye who follow in our train I would wish that you may know the joy of being true Bethanians, and that you may faithfully "carry on" all that is best and worthiest in the life of our common heritage, Alma Mater.

PROFESSOR BERNAL R. WEIMER

MEMBERS OF STUDENT COUNCIL

GRACE LEE

FRANK G. HELME

MARGARET RYAN

LEIGH L. DARSIE

SAMUEL S. ALLEN

To the casual onlooker "Bud" is a very humble and melancholy young man but "you can't judge a book by its cover." He is that kind of a fellow, who knowing all your faults, likes you in spite of them. Like all great men, "Bud" has a hobby or two, one being a fondness for selecting the All-American teams "the way they ought to line up."

LOIS ARNOLD

This young lady is from the South. Her specialties are friendship, wit, humor, pathos and fried ham sandwiches. She is a faithful choristress. She loves all her professors. She attends most of the social functions from a high sense of duty and by the same token keeps on good terms with the house hostesses, deans and politicians.

CLARENCE E. BEATTY

Ever good-natured and willing to "give you a lift," Clarence works all the time. An excellent student; he is content with only the best grades and we might call him the "book-worm." He has decided to devote his life to the cause of foreign missions.

JAY N. BOOTH

Jay has already done much toward making Huntington, W. Va., famous here in Bethany. As a student, he is usually the comedian of his classes. He promises to be quite a baseball player as well as a preacher.

KARL T. BROADLEY

The biggest man in school! "Broad" has many interests and accomplishments in life. On our football team this year he was a kind of keystone and it was only through the hardest efforts that the opposing team could ever make him give an inch.

DONALD H. BROMLEY

"Don" always was a lion among the ladies, but this year he is especially interested in an unusual kind of Olive. He has even braved the dangers of chemistry in order to study the specimen at closer range.

CAROLENE BURNS

Iowa sent Carolene to Bethany. She is such a quiet little miss that the only way she can make herself heard is by playing the trombone, in which art she is most proficient.

JEAN BURNS

Jean is the other sister from the "Hawkeye State." Whenever she is not playing her cornet in the orchestra or band, you are sure to find her trying to settle a Bill at Gibson's.

FLOYD A. COLLER

Another of the big men in our class. Coller's chief interest in life is athletics and he manages to make every team in school. Among the fair sex he is quite a "rusher." Even the faculty holds no fears for him.

PERRY J. COOK

Have you ever heard this man talk? He is already a preacher of no little ability so it only remains for him to keep on at the job to become "the best ever."

WOOD B. CUNDIFF

To know Wood is to like him. Since he hails from Kentucky he has all the appearances of a gentleman. He is one of the "young hopefuls" in the ministerial profession and also has an unusual talent in playing the guitar, which he does periodically at "Lit" meetings. How can a man like this help making his mark in the world?

LEIGH L. DARSIE

Leigh is one of the hardest workers in the class, but still he can find time to indulge in arguments—his favorite pastime. He does everything in an energetic, direct manner and as a result has become one of the real leaders in college activities.

FRANK DONALDSON

The incorrigible, iconoclastic non-conformist "Senator" from Beverly, Ohio. Frank, "the hail fellow well met" of our class, is a proficient debater. His sales talk: "You've got what we want, we've got what you want, let's trade" is a part of the Junior class history. Frank smiles with absolute impartiality on all the co-eds.

MRS. T. R. EGBERT

Having a husband doesn't seem to interfere with Mrs. Egbert's studies. She is always in a hurry but still has time to be friendly and can be depended on to do anything from giving a reading to cooking chicken for sandwiches.

HAROLD G. ELSAM

Harold came to Bethany from India where his parents are missionaries, and some day he is planning to return there as a missionary himself. He still retains many of his English ways which win friends for him at every turn. As an avocation Harold likes to do a little boxing, but none of us have any fears for Jack Dempsey.

CARL C. FRANCIS

Are you in need of a friend? Go to Carl. His genial smile and ever-readiness to help a good thing along have given him an enviable place in the class of 1923. Scholarship is his vocation, tutoring his avocation and "Bizz-ology" his provocation.

OLIVE GEDEOHN

Another one of "that Buffalo" bunch. Olive has a wonderful range of activities from Greek to candy-making and from piano playing to Carpentering. Amidst it all, she often finds time to cheer the dark Glenn with her sunshine. Olive gives a fair share of her time to the intricacies of the square dance and the mysteries of science. She has openly avowed herself a social butterfly who sacrificially devotes her time and most of her energies to the pursuit of that substantial and deeply satisfying thing, a college diploma.

VERE E. GILLESPIE

If it were not for such men as this the world's work would never be done. His "side-line" is printing and he has found many an opportunity to put it to good use during his life in Bethany.

C. CLARENCE GOETTLING

"Get" might well be styled as the "Beau Brummell" of Bethany, for he is one of the neatest dressers among us—and we all know how he loves the ladies. However, his society interests do not take up all his time for he was on our class basketball team and proved himself to be a clever player.

WILLIAM S. HERBSTER

"Bill" has shown his versatility in many ways. As a student, debater, electrician and lover he has met with great success. His courtesy and good nature have made him many friends.

FRANK G. HELME

Frank is the man who has made the little town of Buffalo, New "Yawk," dear to the hearts of the Bethany students. Perhaps much of his popularity is due to his rosy cheeks or his radiant smile which, like the sun, beams on both the great and small. He probably attends more committee meetings than any three people in school and he is always in a hurry. Frank aspires to be a "gentleman of the cloth" and we believe his vocation is well chosen for he has already shown how he can stir the emotions of people, not only from the pulpit but also as cheer-leader at football games.

ANNA HIBLER

Whenever you hear a peal of laughter Anna is usually around. But she never fails to put the welfare of her friends before her own happiness. She has acquired the art of combining work and play, especially noticeable during her "lab. concerts."

MARIAN HIBLER

Marian is one of our little girls, but "all good things are done up in small packages." She possesses a charming personality and is loved by all who know her. Lately she has become much interested in the college band but it looks as if a certain "Sum"-one was the attraction.

JOHN L. HIGGS

We have here a man who is so busy that hardly anyone in the class has a chance to get acquainted with him. He will probably be a college professor soon, for teaching is his work.

GRANT HOLMAN

Our Grant of Tennessee, is a Hol-man. Although he comes from the foothills of the Cumberlands his chief ambition in life is to attain "The Heights." And we believe he'll do it. Just look at his inspiration. Wounded in France, he refused to die, and returned to Bethany to continue his preparation for the ministry.

EVERETT HOWELL

The man that put the twinkle in the stars, brushed the cobwebs off the moon, discovered the laws of gravitation and enunciated the molecular theory of concomitant incompatibility, and other things. Everett's pastimes are fishing and such sports with a little philosophizing thrown in. He aspires to teach economics when he gets through college and we predict a very successful future for him.

SAMUEL W. JACOBS

Here we have "big business" in the making. This member of our class is the very personification of administration. "Sammy" is quite a star on the basketball floor and as a "bizzite," he is an artist.

GAIL JAMES

Gail is a true Bethanian even if she is a Methodist. She has a natural affinity for a number of cultural and academic pursuits such as hiking, tennis, freshman theme-writing, midnight feeds and lecture courses. Gail has a wealth of friends, old and new.

ERNEST F. KENDLE

"Erny's" special talent is singing in the Glee Club where he holds a place way down in the scale—second bass—but socially he attains the "Heights." A hard-working student, he aspires to be a preacher some day and we predict success for him judging from what he has already done.

DOROTHY KIRK

What Drake University lost, Bethany gained when this young lady came to us from Iowa. Though she has been here only a short time, who has not learned the charm of her personality? She is what everybody would call a "good sport." Dorothy is an excellent student and a loyal "bizzite," but she has one failing, she just loves to eat.

T. D. LAMB

A man of few words, he spends his time in doing things, and from his record we know he accomplishes much. He may not be related to the great "Elia," but at least he has a Charles and Mary in his home.

GRACE A. LEE

Her name just seems to suit Grace. In the midst of the most trying situations she remembers to "keep sweet." As President of the Y. W. C. A. she has done a splendid work and won the good will and hearty co-operation of every member. Methinks the secret of her success is that she always keeps her hand on the Helm(e).

SHERIDAN L. LOYD

"Fat" aspires to win fame as an engineer. So far the most that he has accomplished in the profession is to acquire a khaki suit and high-top boots. "Fat's" presence on the campus is easily recognized by his "steamboat" whistle.

DENTON McCORMICK

Who has more friends than "Mac?" He is never too busy to help a fellow out of a difficult situation and no matter what happens he keeps smilin'. If we only had more such people in the world, how sweet this life would be.

WILLIAM H. McKINNEY

This man, our class President, is always busy. He is a great jollier except when things get cross-wise and then he is a fighter. "Mac" will always be found on the right side of a proposition and in every way he is the type of man that the class is proud to have in its ranks. We are told that "Mac" pays frequent visits to Steubenville, Ohio.

LAWTON W. MARSH

Here is a man who always has a sunny smile for everyone, but still is a pugilist when he gets started. His athletic prowess is a notable quality and as a singer he bids fair to rival John McCormack.

CAMERON MEACHAM

Sober of mien, this man is full of wit when you know him. Ever since he was a freshman he has had one interest socially and she is just about as big as he is. "Cam" is a good student, steady and reliable and the truest friend you ever could have.

NELLIE MOSER

Although "Nell" is a little girl, she does big things. She is a good student and an ardent athlete, but her greatest accomplishment is "bizzing." If it were not for the amount of mail she gets from W. V. U. and Ohio State it would not pay to keep the Bethany Post Office open.

MATIS MULLEN

"Life is real, life is earnest"—so Matis thinks. But it takes just such people to do the world's work and Matis is certainly doing her share, for she has some part in every good work in college.

HARRY F. RANDOLPH

"Randy" needs no introduction. As an athlete, he is a star in every game he plays, but athletics do not take up all his time for "Randy" is somewhat of a student. A big man, he does big things.

CARL REGER

All hail the Baron! From the car-barn to Tammany Hall, from the Heights to the Buffalo praises are sung to this accomplished young musician. Though extremely versatile yet Baron shows an individuality which enables him to make many friends.

ERNEST M. REINHOLD, JR.

This man has made a record as a student and athlete. His special hobbies are eight o'clock classes and Spanish. But next to scholastic honors "Reiny" prefers basketball. He was easily the star of the Senior Class team in one game this year. Among his many friends he has a specialty in Wheeling.

EDWARD D. RUSSELL

When "Eddie" was a freshman he was regarded as the "Infant Prodigy" of Bethany. But now he is "one of us," although he still has a typical "Arkansaw" manner and finds it hard to keep awake in class. There is no better student in Bethany when "Eddie" applies himself.

MAC RYAN

This tall, dignified member of our class has won the esteem of all because of his character, his ideals and willingness to serve others. Mac hates publicity, but this detracts in no way from his ability. He is active in student affairs, a practical, likeable fellow, possessing a great deal of originality and good judgment.

MARGARET RYAN

Margaret bears no small share of the burdens of the Student Council and is one of the most popular members of that august assembly. When Margaret undertakes a thing she sees it through to the end. She is faithful in everything and, above all, has the supreme gift of keeping cool and collected and so is a friend to everybody. "Home-keeping hearts are happiest."

CLARA SCHNEIDER

One of the first girls the timid freshman meets when she comes to Bethany is Clara. Her winning smile, unfailing courtesy and understanding sympathy soon captivate everyone. Her chief pastime is squeezing in and out of the biology lab. windows. She is a good student and always a ready worker in whatever she is asked to do.

JOHN W. SEELY

John is one of the "literary lights" of our class. He says very little unless asked to, but does a great deal. Nobody in school has a keener sense of humor, but John shows the extreme good judgment of using his wit only at the proper time.

PAUL D. SHAFER

Here is another fellow who does much and says little. When once you know him you will find a faithful friend and a young man of high ideals. In spite of his good looks Paul claims that he is to be a bachelor—"but they all fall sometime."

LEO SIMMONS

This young preacher comes from the South. He is one of our most faithful and hard-working students, but still has a fund of wit and humor on which he draws continually. He has a special talent for giving readings and characterizations.

GLADYS SMITH

"Bobbie" does not let the teaching profession interfere seriously with her good humor or ability to make folks like her. She studies when the spirit moves her and when the basketball schedule is favorable. "Bobbie" stars in every game she plays and is never so virtuous as when dodging the confectionery.

MARGARET STEINDORF

"Her ways are ways of pleasantness"—that's Margaret. All the artistic talent in the Steindorf family did not go to "big sister" for Margaret is quite an artist, too. She is an enthusiastic basketball player besides being a tireless worker in every college activity in which she has a part.

L. B. STEVENSON

Another one of our students. He has chosen the ministry as his life work and we feel sure he will succeed in his undertaking for he is an earnest, conscientious student and not afraid to burn a little "midnight oil" when a problem is difficult.

JEAN TAYLOR

Jean is another one of the "Taylor Tribe" so well known and loved in this community. She expects to study nursing next year and if appearances indicate anything, we predict great success for her.

FRANCES UNDERWOOD

We wonder how she makes straight "A's" and yet finds time to "biz." We bow to the charm of her personality. We love her for her music and when she smiles we are happy to be within range. Frances is sterling goodness.

LINLEY WELLS

Here we have a member of that famous family so prominent in Federal circles in this city. "Chick" is a basketball player and often stars in the game. He is also somewhat of a "bizzite" but no doubt that is because he has sisters and so has always been used to girls.

KATHARINE WILFLEY

Here is one of Bethany's most prominent "wandering Greeks." She is a Chi Omega from George Washington University and she claims the "Capital City" as her permanent abode. Besides being an "A" student, Katharine has proved herself a very valuable person in literary and journalistic circles. Some people still believe that she cut that thumb on purpose though.

ALBERT H. WILSON

"Bert" returned to us, having spent his sophomore year in Marietta College. They all come back sooner or later. He spends his week-ends in the "Valley of the Moon" doing pas- toral work, but finds time when at school for debating and oratory.

EMILY WOODS

Emily is one of those people who have a quiet but effective way of getting things done without saying much about it. She can be counted on for any worthy enterprise in school. Always a loyal friend, she is also one of our most faithful "bizzites."

MAE M. YOHO

Mae is a "regular girl." She debates, plays basketball, attends chapel and graces all K. A. activities. Mae is a Normal girl. She will do well to keep her wholesome enthusiasm for we believe sincerely that virtue is its own re- ward.

EVERETT YOUNG

In one night this man made himself more widely heard than at any other time of his school life. "Pete's" avocation is assisting the Postmistress, at least we hope his time has not been wasted there. From all appearances, he has proved to be a great inspiration.

History of the Class of 1923

The Class of Nineteen Hundred Twenty-three is entitled to a place of distinction. The class roll now numbers fifty-nine but it is not because of the large number of Juniors that we are so proud but because of the fact that the entire number will probably return to complete their courses next year, thus making the Class of '23 the largest that has ever been graduated from Bethany College. There are only thirty of the original members of our class together now but we have been joined by nearly as many more who have done part of their work in other colleges or in Bethany in previous years.

The Junior Class of this year has always made itself conspicuous. First, as Freshmen, we gave the Sophomores untold difficulties because we had some ideas of our own about the proper conduct and importance of our class. Second, as Sophomores, we compelled the Freshmen in a very definite manner to obey such rules and regulations as we saw fit to impose. And this year, as Juniors, we entertained the Seniors at a party which we hope proved very enjoyable to our worthy guests.

The class also furnishes a goodly number of those who carry on the activities of the College. The editor of the Harbinger and three of his assistants are Juniors and we also have four members of the class on the Student Board of Publications. To athletics we have contributed our share.

Our aim is to be a credit to the institution to which we belong and although we feel a justifiable pride in the history we have made in our three years of college life, we do not expect to rest on our past, but we intend to strive for better things and we look forward with supreme faith to a time in the future when members of the class graduated from Bethany College in Nineteen Hundred Twenty-three will be prominent men and women in the work of the world.

History of the Class of 1924

At a time when Bethany's star of hope was growing brighter, when the old regime had given place to the new and prosperous era, there came manly and valiant sons and charming daughters to assist in this great work of evolution.

Strange to say, the Class of '23 thought us green, but when the "fearful gauntlet" was run we were possessed of that prerogative of every Sophomore, superiority.

The Sophomore Class is schooled to take both victory and defeat. We fight gamely to the last, and die hard. Our experience has not been one of continuous victory, for as Freshmen we suffered defeat at the hands of the Class of '23 in the annual Flag Rush. The night before the Flag Rush our boys had been held as unwilling guests at a stag party in a deserted house a few miles from Bethany. But just in time they arrived to defend the good name of our class, and although they fought hard we were forced to leave the victory in the hands of the Sophomores. Again in the Tug-of-war, due to adverse circumstances, we suffered defeat, but as on all former occasions we fought valiantly.

As time wore on the shyness which came from strange surroundings and threats of hair-cutting was laid aside and the Freshies became a dominant factor in "Book and Bizz."

Commencement came and as Freshmen we parted—to meet no more as Freshmen. However, we began as Sophomores with the motto of "Win or Die," and with ease won the Flag Rush from the Freshmen. Not long afterwards old Bethany was aroused from her lethargy by the appearance in chapel of ten monks who had been duly punished for crimes committed in the past.

These things we consider as minor details in the annals of our class, but the thing which stands out is the winning of the basketball championship. Our boys were determined to win all, and everything went smoothly until we suffered defeat at the hands of our oldest enemy, the Juniors. The tie must be played off, and nothing daunted, our boys went into that game with a spirit never before witnessed on Bethany's basketball floor. To say that the game was exciting would be entirely too mild, but by a brilliant coup d'etat the victory went to the Sophomores, and the cup was awarded to the Sophomore Class; March 4, 1922, will never be forgotten by a member of the Class of 1924.

The girls have not proved inferior to the boys, for they too won laurels on the basketball floor. The Sophomores have not only taken active part in basketball, but in every other college activity, from football to preaching.

Our hearts are on fire with Bethany spirit. We love her and some day we hope to do great things for the advancement of our beloved Alma Mater.

History of the Class of 1925

In the fall of 1921 ninety Freshmen entered Bethany to start their college career. Those first gloomy days will never be forgotten. We soon overcame our shyness, survived the jeers and jests of the upper-classmen and settled down to our regular school duties.

The second week of school we organized, electing the following officers: President, Normal Ward; Vice-President, Harold Idleman; Secretary, Margaret Hunter; Treasurer, Louise Morris, and Historian, Mildred McCollam. Also our two representatives on the student council, Donald Schell and Lawrence Murray.

Our class history would be incomplete without some statement concerning the cruel treatment to which the Freshmen were subjected. As in former years the Sophomores endeavored to frighten the Freshmen by a series of night raids. The most interesting of these was made the night before the flag rush. The Sophomores raided the dormitory for Freshmen prisoners. However the Freshmen were not to be found, due to their hiding all night in a nearby barn, and the Sophomores inability to locate them.

Not many opportunities for social functions were given the Freshmen before Christmas because of the strict rules laid down by the Sophomores. However, at the beginning of the year they helped us get acquainted by entertaining us at a delightful party.

There is scarcely any field of college activities in which the Freshmen are not represented. Athletics found great favor among the members of our class. We have both a boys' and girls' basketball team, which we are proud to have represent the Class of 1925.

Two of our number made the College Glee Club,—Mayer singing tenor, and McCleary, bass. We are also well represented in the band and orchestra. To enumerate our achievements would be to achieve the impossible. In fact every one noticed immediately that we were to be the best class Bethany had held for many years.

H. M. BULAND
Head Coach

K. EASTERDAY
Assistant Coach

D. L. BOYD

Immediately after graduation Donald took up the responsible position of Graduate Manager. With his pleasing personality he has been successful in attending to all the ailments of his men. To a large extent the success of the season may be contributed to this young man. Together with filling this position in the most admirable way he has found time to assume another important position, that of "Benedict" in the ranks of matrimony.

LEIGH DARSIE

When it comes to handling the detail work of the football department which includes taking of the equipment and seeing that his team lacks nothing, Leigh made an ideal manager. Always on the job—from the opening of training camp until the end of the season, much credit should go to this man who has so efficiently done the work.

BULAND

To Coach Buland goes the credit for having coached Bethany's greatest eleven. From the opening of training season until the end, Coach Buland was persistently whipping his team into shape as only coaches of his ability and experience can do. It was thus through his untiring efforts that the Green and White was enabled to make the greatest showing of their gridiron career.

EASTERDAY

Some seven or eight years ago Coach Easterday was a pupil of the famous "Pop" Warner. In those days Pitt fans went wild when "Katy" skirted the ends or hit the opponent's line. Since that time Easterday has devoted his time and energies to developing men who bring the spectators to their feet as he did a few years ago. To say that he is well liked in Bethany would be putting it mild. If the sentiment of the student body has anything to do with it "Doc" will be here for years to come.

DUNN

Playing his last year for the Bisons, Captain Dunn led his team through a very successful season. "Buck" was a hard fighter and a consistent player, always urging his men on with that "never say die" spirit. It would be hard to say which was his best game for he was a shining light in every contest.

RANDOLPH

"Watch out for Randolph around right end! Watch out for Randolph around left end!" The foregoing sentences were quite a common phrase on the football field this fall. He was always aggressive and full of fight, leading the tri-state district in points scored. Having played three years on the Bethany eleven "Randy" should make a very efficient leader for 1922.

STEWART

Men that can step in and run a team at any stage of the game are few, but in "Stew" Bethany had a man who was always equal to the occasion. Although handicapped by injury early in the year, he proved himself, as in the year before, to be a field general of the highest caliber.

SMITH

Playing his last year for the Bison eleven "Si" certainly did his bit—gathering in passes and smearing plays. His absence from next year's squad will be a great loss, but his playing days will linger long in the memories of those who saw him in action.

KIDDER

Kidder won distinction last season as a consistent performer, not only in pushing a baby cart, but on the gridiron as well. His playing was of a superior order and he is expected to be one of the mainstays next season.

COLLER

Floyd is a man who can play any position on the team from center to full-back. However, he played most of the season at end, where he proved a hard man for the opponents to keep from smearing plays. He has one more year to play.

ROARK

George, the veteran end, played his third year for the Green and White. Roark plays a hard, consistent game and can always be depended upon at snatching passes. With his knowledge of the game he makes a very valuable asset to the Bethany grid team.

KELLEY

Arlan shared honors with Randolph, Payne and Jean, although a "midget" compared to them in size. Not only in skirting ends, but in piloting the Bethany eleven, Kelley was a star of the first magnitude.

WELLS

Eddie did not get much of a chance to prove his worth, but whenever he got into a game he displayed form that will make him in another year, the same hard fighting football player as he is basketball or baseball.

PATTERSON

"Pattie," playing his first year, has proven himself to be worth his weight in gold as a football player. Being diminutive makes no difference to "Pat" for with his speed he passes them all.

PAYNE

Vic is the other member of the "Siamese Twins" from Texas. Payne played half-back and was occasionally shifted to full-back for a running mate with the diminutive "Pattie." His experience proved to be a valuable asset to the Bison eleven. His offense was always of a high order, and his defense left little to be desired.

BAILEY

"Buck" Bailey comes to us from the Lone Star State. "Buck" handled the pivot position in fine style and his defense played to the tune of "Ride 'em Cowboy" brought the stands to their feet consistently. This was "Buck's" first year but he proved one of the best men who ever donned the Green and White.

BROADLEY

Broadley, our "diminutive tackle," tips the scales at a mere two hundred and thirty pounds. His powerful physique made us think that he was not only a challenger for Jack Dempsey's crown but also a contender for a berth on Walter Camp's mythical eleven.

SHOEMAKE

"Hub" with his educated toe pulled Bethany out of many a tight place. It would be hard to say which was his best game, for he always gave a good account of himself—tearing holes in the opponent's line, making an opening for his own team-mates to plunge through.

ADKINS

Roy came to Bethany from Illinois with an enviable record. He has proved a stonewall against the driving attacks of his opponents. With his weight and experience Adkins should be a good foundation for next year's line. Not only a football player, but as the current conversation has it, a "grappler" of real merit, Roy is truly a good man.

JEAN

Jean, the Bison's plunging full-back, completed his fourth year of college football this fall. Jean put up a stellar game in the back-field and whenever a few yards were needed for a first down Jean was always equal to the occasion.

LEWIS

Lewis was one of the best contenders for the end position. This was "Thee's" first year at Bethany, and no doubt we would have heard favorable reports from the Bowling Green lad had he not been held out because of injuries received in the early part of the season. Great things are expected of "Ted" next year.

Review of the 1921 Season

With the opening of training camp, September second, Coach Buland and his men began earnestly to fit themselves for the heaviest football schedule that Bethany had ever attempted. The success of their untiring efforts may be judged by the season's results.

W. & J.—14 BETHANY—0

Playing before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a W. & J.-Bethany game, Bethany was defeated in their opening game by their old rivals 14-0. All in all it was a great game. A game that was satisfactory to the Bethany fans with one exception—the score.

Brenkert kicked off for W. & J., Randolph receiving the kick returning 20 yards. Randolph then circled left end for 17 yards. Bethany was forced to kick. After exchange of punts W. & J. then succeeded in slipping across their first touchdown. Score at end of first half: W. & J.—7 Bethany—0.

Both teams took the field at the opening of the second half without change in lineup. With the ball on the 30 yard line, West, W. & J.'s stellar full-back, broke through Bethany's line and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. The game ended without either side being able to add anything more to the score.

BEHANY—28 MARIETTA—0

In the second game of the season Bethany romped over Marietta 28-0. However, it was not until the third quarter that Coach Buland's scoring machine was hitting on all "4." Then they crossed the goal line four times before the final whistle blew. Three of the touchdowns came as results of line plunges by Randolph and Jean, while the big center, Bailey blocked a kick and fell on the ball behind the Marietta goal for the final touchdown.

BETHANY—14 OHIO UNIVERSITY—0

Bethany avenged last year's defeat by winning from Ohio University by a 14-0 score. The feature of the game was Randolph's spectacular playing along with Shoemake's punting.

Captain Dunn was instrumental in making Bethany's first touchdown by blocking an Ohio University's punt and recovering it on the 25 yard line. Randolph then carried the ball around for the remaining distance and touchdown. On the first play of the second quarter Randolph intercepted a forward pass and raced 54 yards for the second and last touchdown.

The wonderful defensive work with the offensive playing of Jean, Patterson, Payne and Kelley proved too much for the Ohio eleven to handle.

BETHANY—42 BUFFALO UNIVERSITY—0

The Green and White by a combined running and aerial attack, defeated Buffalo University in a game that was filled with thrills and spectacular playing from beginning to end.

Buffalo in the third period lost their only opportunity to score after Q. Joor broke through tackle and zig-zagged his way 70 yards, before being forced out of bounds on Bethany's 10 yard line. Buffalo lacked the necessary force to push it the remaining ten yards over Bethany's stonewall defense.

Kelley, Patterson and Payne played a remarkable game for the Green and White, each making repeated gains around the ends and through the line.

BETHANY—78 DAYTON UNIVERSITY—0

Bethany trampled Dayton University by the largest score made during the season. After 38 points had been accumulated by the varsity, Coach Buland substituted the second team for one period. The varsity was then ejected into the lineup and finished running up the score to 78 points. Kelley, Dunn, Randolph and Patterson were the stars of the day.

NAVY—20 BETHANY—0

After a win of four straight games Bethany went down before the "Midshipmen." Starting out like a shot, Navy scored three touchdowns before the first half ended. Coming back with new life at the beginning of the second half, Bethany displayed a stonewall defense. An aerial attack by Randolph and Kelley fell only a little short of chalking up a few points in place of the 0.

BETHANY—14 GROVE CITY—0

The Green and White easily defeated Grove City 14-0. The game was a fine exhibition of football. Grove City fought hard and made desperate attempts to keep the "Bisons" from running up a larger score. By a steady march down the field in the first quarter the Bethany "eleven" was able to score their first touchdown. The second touchdown was the result of forward passes which ended with "Si" Smith carrying the ball over.

CARNEGIE TECH—21 BETHANY—12

On a muddy field Carnegie Tech downed Bethany in a hard fought battle and by doing so put a bomb under the "Bison's" greatest hopes for the season. The "Skibos" scored before Bethany was able to get going. It was then Bethany's turn to score and this they did—once—twice—before Tech could get them stopped. Then the unexpected happened—Robertson of Tech, slipped around right end for their second counter. Bethany having failed to kick goal gave Tech a two point lead. Fighting desperately in the second half, neither team was able to score until late in the last quarter. Aided by the cover of darkness Tech crossed Bethany's goal for the last score of the game.

The Green and White earned nine first downs to Tech's eight, and completed seven forward passes to Tech's none.

BETHANY—67 WEST VIRGINIA WESLEYAN—0

The down-staters proved to be no match for the speedy aggregation from Bethany. It was in this game that Randolph made the record of the season by running the ball over ninety yards from scrimmage for a touchdown. The entire squad was used in this game and every man played a good game. Patterson and Kelley each had several long and spectacular gains to their credit.

BETHANY—0 GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY—13

The season ended in Washington, D. C., Thanksgiving Day. Bethany being defeated in a hard battle by Georgetown University. Opening up in the first quarter with smashing drives, Bethany carried the ball well up into Georgetown's territory where a forward pass was intercepted and Georgetown kicked out of danger. Again Bethany started a drive that terminated on the twenty-five yard line, the ball going over on downs. Recovering the ball on fumble Coach Exendine's "eleven" made successive plunges and carried the ball over for a touchdown. The second score was made in the final period after Georgetown had recovered a fumble on Bethany's 25 yard line.

The Season of 1922

Winning fifteen of the twenty-four games played, Bethany's 1922 basketball season stands as successful in more ways than one. Although there was a lack of material for the squad, and a new coaching system was in vogue, a creditable showing was made in each and all of the games. In addition, the team conducted itself when away in such a manner as to reflect more credit upon the Alma Mater than any similar organization that has gone forth from these halls within recent years.

On the squad of this year are to be found but four veterans of former years, namely, Captain Roark, E. Wells, Kelley and Randolph. It was about this nucleus that Coach Easterday built the squad that proved so satisfactory to this year's basketball hopes.

The schedule attempted this year was not pretentious. At the same time, however, the Bison floormen were pitted against some of the best basketballers in this section in facing such quintets as those of Penn State, Muskingum, W. & J., Carnegie Tech and Duquesne. The big feature of the season was a long trip north into New York State. In fact this was too much of a feature, the team hitting too hard a pace and losing the majority of games played. Reports of the collegiate and daily press combine to show, however, that the Bison basketballers achieved no little fame throughout this section, both on account of their playing propensities and because of the fine sportsmanship shown.

The balance of games won favors the Bethany five, the impression created by the team was decidedly favorable to Bethany spirit and tradition; the improvement over last year was considerable; all in all, the season may be termed very favorable and indicative of the success that should attend the future.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

STEWART

Manager Stewart was faithfully consistent in his work on behalf of the team. "Stew" was unfortunate in spraining his ankle in the early part of the season. This forced him out of the actual play, but as a manager he made his presence felt in more ways than one.

ROARK

Captain Roark worked hard for the team and no mean measure of its success may be attributed to him. He was a fast and scrappy leader on the floor, and proved his capabilities by contributing the greatest number of points of any player to the record of the season.

RANDOLPH

Ex-Captain Randolph had decided to limit himself to his studies and forget sport for one term of the year, but the lure of the gym floor was too strong for him. The result was that he was with the team from the beginning of the season. "Randy" played a guard in this, his third year on the team.

KELLEY

The diminutive Irishman was one of the shining lights on the floor again this season, playing the forward position in brilliant fashion. "Irish" is fast and scrappy and formed a small but valuable addition to the quintet.

E. WELLS

Introducing little Eddie Wells. Ed is a good man in three sports, but we venture to say that he extends himself in basketball as in no other activity. He has a habit of galloping down the floor, reaching up, and pushing one in the basket. This is one of his favorite tricks, though he tried to overdo a good thing and pulled it only sixty-two times this season.

ZOOK

Some dizzy player! That is the ejaculation that pops into one's mind as he watches this Illinois whirlwind who goes by the title "Earl of Zook." Zookie has grown accustomed to tying himself into a knot, whirling twice, and then untying himself as he loops the sphere through the basket. All in all he is hard to beat.

GEPFORD

Gepford drew the adoration of his team-mates and the admiration of his opponents because of the punch and pep that he put into his work at guard. "Sunshine," as he is sometimes termed, is a nice quiet sort of a chap ordinarily. On the gym floor, however, he is a fighting fool.

SHOEMAKE

"Hub" Shoemake, the big Oskaloosa tackle of football fame, turned guard during the floor season, much to the advantage of the Green and White. While "Hub's" educated toe was of no advantage in the winter sport, he revealed other qualities which made him a valuable regular on the team. He proved dependable and consistent, a fine fellow in breaking up the opponent's attack.

PRITCHARD

"Pritch" is a husky baby who hails from that point sometimes locatable on large maps as Dunbar Township—better known as "Randy's" home town. He showed, however, that he knows some big town stuff when on the floor and promises to become a mainstay of the Bethany quintets of the future. Scan the line of visibility of "Prich's" head and you will realize that he is a freshman—the only one on the varsity squad.

1921 Baseball

When the first call for baseball candidates was given in the spring of 1921, Bethany's prospects for a winning team were not any too bright.

Coach Buland and Director Miller were confronted with many difficult problems among which were: the apparent lack of material in school, the failure of equipment to arrive, the rulings of the probation system which soon took some of their most promising candidates, and later injuries which took many of the remaining players.

In spite of all this Bethany not only had a team but she had a team which won a majority of the games scheduled and a team which was, at the end of the season able to lay claim to the West Virginia State championship.

Bethany took on what is conceded to be the most formidable baseball schedule attempted by the "Bison College." Then when some of the strongest teams in this part of the country were met and defeated the critics began to open their eyes and take notice.

At times only nine and ten men made the trips, but those men were of such caliber and spirit that they were enough to win.

Too much credit cannot be given to Captain Cook's peppy little aggregation. Randolph, Wells and Bromley took care of the flinging end of the game, while Johnston, Brown, Cook and Patterson handled the remainder of the infield. Wayman, Jean and Smith were the stars of the outfield.

1921 BASEBALL SQUAD

TRACK

Bethany has done little in track. Our present facilities have hampered our development in this branch of sport. With no track upon which to practice it is indeed difficult to expect the development of good track men, to say nothing of the organization of a track team.

This fact more than any other perhaps points out the crying need for a new athletic field. We are attempting a sport program which includes our entire student body, yet this most important and most beneficial branch has to be neglected. More men can participate in track than any other sport. It is rapidly becoming the premier College Sport.

We have attempted to do something in the field events. Several men have shown themselves adept with weights and javelin as well as the broad and high jump and pole vault. Equipment necessary for the use of these men has been purchased and in spite of limited quarters they are doing excellent work and laying the foundations for Bethany's track teams of the future.

Inter-class track meets have been held this spring and one is scheduled for Commencement Week. We expect to send a few of our best men to inter-collegiate meets in the neighborhood and though we are not expecting great things of them we are expecting to grant letters to those who place in the various events.

TENNIS

For the past two years Bethany has played Varsity Tennis. The team has been coached by Dr. W. H. Cramblet and the results gained have been highly satisfactory, in spite of the fact that the "Bison" netmen in that time have not won a match. The organization of new sports takes time, and tennis is no exception.

One of the reasons for the lack of victories has been the class of tennis that we have been meeting. Pitt, Carnegie Tech, West Virginia University and other large institutions of the neighborhood have composed our schedule. In view of the fact that few of the smaller colleges of the tri-state district have been playing tennis we have found it difficult to do anything in our class. However, the net game is becoming more popular and without doubt it will be accepted as varsity endeavor by all colleges within a short time.

Due to the fact that the Bethany Tennis Team was almost depleted by graduation and the inability of several of its members to continue their college course at the present time, the 1922 tennis prospects are not bright. It has been found necessary to cancel our entire schedule until some definite organization can be made. Meacham and Allen are the only men in college who have competed on a varsity team. Dr. Cramblet is trying in the limited time at his disposal to develop an organization that can represent us in a few inter-collegiate matches near the end of the season.

Intra-murally, tennis is more popular than ever. The tennis courts have been put in playing condition and a great number of students are taking advantage of the facilities offered. Several tournaments have been held this spring and the results have been quite gratifying.

Inter-Class Basketball

The Student Council, co-operating with the Board of Athletic Control early in the winter term turned its attention to the formation of an inter-class basketball schedule. From the first it could be seen that Bethany was to witness the best winter of basketball in some years. The class teams practiced almost as regularly as the varsity in order to get the best possible results in the series and their practices brought results.

The Seniors had little chance. The present Senior Class was once leader in intra-mural sports, but for some reason or other they could not get their old time organization working. They were game, however, and in spite of merciless beating stayed with the proposition throughout the season.

The Juniors had an excellent team with a good squad of reserves. They played hard, fast basketball and lost the series through no inferiority to their Sophomore brethren, but rather through the fact that the whistle blew in two games while the Sophs were in their none too certain leads which seldom lasted over several seconds in any game.

The Sophomores won the series. They deserve credit for the fact that they put a real team on the floor and won with but few reserves to back them. The Sophomores were much lighter, physically, than the Juniors, but this handicap was overcome by their consistent scrappiness which at last landed them at the top of the heap.

The Freshmen had good material, but was not the organized team that the second and third year men put on the floor. They will have to be reckoned with in coming series however, as they have good material which will finally organize.

The Board of Control offered a silver loving cup to the winner of the series and the regular season did not determine, as the Juniors and Sophomores closed the schedule with each having won five and lost one of the contests played. The Sophs won the first game with the Juniors by a 16-15 score and the Juniors took the second by a 16-12 score. The play-off was scheduled for March 4th and after a hard-fought battle the Sophomores claimed the trophy and the title by virtue of another 16-15 victory over the Juniors.

The spirit of the teams and their supporters added much to the college life and gave new impetus to intra-mural activity on the campus.

FRESHMEN

Women's Inter-Class Basketball

Inter-class basketball among the girls met with the same enthusiasm that it did among the men. The Junior and Senior class combined their talent, as they were unable to have teams alone. Here also the Sophomores came off victorious, the second year girls winning three of the four games played.

The Junior-Senior team landed in second place in the series, winning two of the four games in which they participated.

The Freshman class finished the race in the cellar, having wone one of the games played. The first year lassies could not lay claim to any great team. However, here again it was much the same as in the men's series, the lack of having played together before showed in their organization.

The Girls' Inter-Class series was late in starting, and for that reason could not play a comprehensive schedule. The series was highly satisfactory, however, and girls' basketball bids fair to become a great thing in Bethany life. The Woman's Athletic Association, a newly formed organization, has undertaken to supply a trophy and there is no doubt but that the Board of Control will grant them funds for this purpose.

The girls expect to tackle inter-class baseball and when the pool is ready for use will undoubtedly have some aquatic meets. The program of intra-murals is meant to reach both men and women and there is no doubt that a greater number than ever before are enjoying them.

The Tumbling Team

1921—1922 has brought many improvements and innovations to old Bethany. One of the most fascinating of these, at least from the viewpoint of the student, has been the tumbling team. This team, which is composed of five husky students, has reached such proficiency in their art that they have been able to put on several performances this year before the alumni and the student body.

The team is under the direction of D. C. Riblet and the success of the group has been due largely to his untiring efforts. The other members of the squad are Johnston, Whitehead, Ellis and Ellis.

This year the team has confined its performances to the intermissions between basketball games and to the Bethany Home-coming circus. We are assured, however, that next year the squad will be fully equipped and will then give performances at any time during the season.

The Women's Athletic Association is a new organization upon the campus. The need for such an association has long been felt but up until this year the organization had not materialized.

The purpose of this organization is to promote athletic activities among the women students of Bethany College and to give athletics the place they rightly deserve in the life of every student.

The requirements for entrance include athletic ability, sportsmanship and high academic standing.

It is this association which has charge of awarding letters, numerals, and other insignia to those of the women's teams who meet the requirements

Student Council of Bethany College

The beginning of the school year saw the innovation of a system of the Student Council in regard to the duties of each member. This, being the division of the work into four committees, as follows:

The Educational Welfare Committee.

The Physical Welfare Committee.

The Moral Welfare Committee.

The Social Welfare Committee

This system has progressed to the point of perfection.

The Physical Welfare Committee, more commonly called the Pep Committee, successfully conducted the Freshmen and Sophomore inter-class activities, and also directed the most successful inter-class basketball tournaments, both boys' and girls', that have ever been held in Bethany College.

Through the aid of the Educational Committee, the Literary Societies have increased their membership and a closer alliance has been brought about.

The most difficult task is that of the Moral Welfare Committee, in trying to install the Honor System into the college. The first step in this direction was the conducting of the attendance of chapel, which has voluntarily increased. The next and more arduous step, is the installing of the honor system during examinations. This last step has been agitated from time to time, and bids fair to be a success this next year.

The social life of the students has been enlivened by numerous parties and entertainments through the untiring efforts of the Social Committee.

Another successful undertaking was the working out of a school calendar. By this method, the conflicting hours of the different organizations of the school for their meetings, were done away with, and each organization assigned a certain time to hold their meetings.

A perusal of these accomplishments of the Student Council of Bethany College will convince the reader that the members have not been wholly idle during this school year, but have attended to the more essential needs of the students. The members themselves feel that they have attained in a small measure, success in their various enterprises.

The Student Board of Publications is now beginning the third year of its existence. It was created by the Student Council in 1920. It was originally composed of seven members, but has since been increased to eight. The purposes of this board are, to have charge of circulation, advertising, and general management of the finances for the publication of the college periodicals.

The plan, for the most part, has been successful. It has relieved the editors of all worry with regard to financial matters, and they have been able to turn their whole attention and efforts to their respective editorial duties, with results that are very gratifying. The Board has been handicapped during the present year as a result of liabilities inherited from the previous board, but with the changes instituted at the beginning of the present year, the Board has been enabled to give more efficient service.

The 1922 Bethanian staff has worked with three goals in view.

First, we have aimed to give to the alumni a book which will, to some degree carry to them the note of optimism and the spirit of progress and achievement which is so predominant in Bethany at the present time.

Second, we have endeavored to compile a volume which will prove interesting and attractive to the prospective student.

Third, and what seem to us to be most important, we have tried to give to the student body an annual which they will be proud to call their own.

We do not present this volume because of its literary and artistic value, but because it has felt the vital touch of those with whom we have been associated during our college course.

If, in the days to come, when these leaves are turned again in memory of past years, this record of Bethany happenings shall serve to awaken pleasant recollections of good times gone by, and to revive the happy scenes of undergraduate days, we shall feel that our efforts have not been unrewarded.

Through the last three great wars of our nation, through many trials and difficulties, through a multitude of financial harassments, the "Collegian" has continued irregularly. Yet with that irregularity created by extenuating circumstances there has ever existed a noble singleness of purpose—that Bethany may finally be endowed with a real, live, college newspaper. Names have changed but never the purpose. The "Collegian" was first the "Stylus," revived after the Civil War it became the "Guardian;" today, as it comes to the conclusion of its thirty-ninth volume, "The Collegian" has so entrenched itself in the life of Bethany that it is hoped that it is finally and forever established as a permanent part of the college life.

After the recent struggle of the Nations the "Collegian" was not re-established until the winter of 1919. Each year of active existence, has, however, seen some changes; each year some betterments. Perhaps the most noticeable change of the past year has been the change of policy. The "Collegian," following the introduction of the publications fee, has aimed to become a publication for, by, and of the students of the college. The aim has become that of the development of the potentialities of power in the direction and representation of the student body that rightfully belong to the free press. As yet, it has only been possible to realize this aim in part. The continuance of such a purpose will, however, mean for a considerable increase in the scope of the college news publication.

The "Collegian" has grown. The growth has been possible because of the increased numbers of volunteers who have devoted themselves to its development. It is this increase in the numbers of those loyal to the "Collegian" that causes one to believe the permanency of the college paper to be firmly and finally established.

In its second year the "Harbinger" has pointed its efforts toward the firmer establishment of the position which it aspires to have in the college and among the Alumni. That position assumes the need for a clear expression of matured thought on current academic problems from students, alumni, and faculty; a reflection of opinion on the matters which contribute the essentials to the story of the present year.

Hence the range of contributions has extended from items of personal interest to the schismatic misfortunes of the church. Alumni have been called upon for ideas as well as the usual support expected of them, and more than half of the "Harbinger's" columns have been given to them. Whether or not the editorial policy has assumed anything like a settled saneness and penetrating understanding of the opportunities will have to be left to another year, or two years, to be decided. "The "Harbinger" will, of course, have to grow up and meet its new difficulties as they arise. The kindly encouragement and generous support from alumni and students are cause for belief that the future of our newest publication is assured.

The routine work of the Bethany College Y. M. C. A. was resumed for the year with the meeting of the incoming trains at Wellsburg, and the directing of the new men to the "inter-urban" car for the college. Much impetus was given to the work by the enthusiasm which President Carlisle radiated, due to his trip to the Silver Bay Conference. The other officers conducted their work in an efficient manner throughout the year.

Following the welcoming of the new men, came a big "get-to-gether" meeting of all of the men in the college, at which time a host joined the Association. "Hot-dogs" and "hot coffee" circulated freely at this meeting, while the old men greeted each other and the new men had an opportunity to become acquainted.

The Y. M. C. A., in conjunction with the Y. W. C. A., organized and conducted study classes in the Memorial Church Bible School. Several classes of men were formed, each with a capable student leader in charge. Dr. Wilbur Cramblet had general charge of the whole adult department.

Again, in co-operation with the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. canvassed the men of the college in the interest of the Student Relief Work, and a large amount was realized in pledges, which were later redeemed.

As usual the Y. M. C. A. had charge of the Lecture Course, and a very instructive and entertaining series of lectures and performances were presented to the college folk and the community. William McKinney efficiently managed the course this year, showing good judgment in the selection of the numbers.

At stated intervals throughout the year, meetings were held at which times entertaining programs were presented by the entertainment committee. The work, while not having been intensive in character, has been very helpful to the men, and to the college as a whole.

A new "wrinkle" has been tried in the local work of the Association on the campus this year. Rooms have been furnished in one of the college buildings for a "commons," or a place where college men may get together, and enjoy each others fellowship. It has proven to be a great asset to the Association and the college. If it proves to be of sufficient value it will eventually be made a permanent campus feature. New opportunities for service will doubtless arise with the coming of the years, and when they do the Association will be ready to take advantage of them. Bethany College is going to continue to grow in influence and power, and with her the Y. M. C. A. will grow also in the ratio with which it serves.

The four-fold purpose of the Y. W. C. A. is:

- (1) To lead students to faith in God through Jesus Christ.
- (2) To lead them into membership and service in the Christian Church.
- (3) To build them up in Christian faith and character, especially through the study of the Bible.
- (4) To influence them to devote themselves in united effort with all Christians, to making the will of Christ effective in human society and to extending the Kingdom of God through the world.

As a part of this world-wide association the Y. W. C. A. in Bethany has done good work. Through the "Big Sister" movement practically every girl in school has been interested in "Y. W." With this hearty support the work of the organization has been very successful. The weekly meetings have not only been interesting but also a source of inspiration to all who attended.

This year the new budget system has been adopted by the association. It has cared for all financial matters in a very creditable manner. The Conference Committee is now working to raise money to send at least two delegates to the summer conference at Eaglesmere. Thus far their efforts have met with success and it is hoped that the delegates this year will derive as much inspiration from the conference as did the ones last year.

The Y. W. C. A. has a great future in "Old Bethany" and if the new girls who come into the association next fall take the same active interest in the work as the old members have the success of the work of the organization is certain.

This organization is made up of students who have sincerely dedicated themselves to service in the Christian Ministry. They have come to Bethany from a very broad area of the world—one from India, one from Japan, one from Philippine Islands, one from Canada, and others from many states of the Union, both North and South. They have their regular meetings in the Bethany Memorial Church every other Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. There they often have beneficial lectures from prominent men in the Brotherhood. Occasionally members are asked to present papers on various subjects of vital interest and some time is spent in the discussion of difficult problems which arise in the ministry. Much practical help is gained in this way.

Members of the Association preach over a wide range of territory, students being heard in Ohio at Flushing, Smithfield, Centerville, Hanoverton, Kingston, Unionport, Clarington, Morristown, Bend Fork, Lowell, Beaverly, Coal Run; in West Virginia at Colliers, Chapel Hill, Follansbee, Fork Ridge, Proctor, Fredonia, Paden City, New Martinsville, New Bethel; and in Pennsylvania at West Alexandria, New Salem, Belle Vernon, and other irregular places. A general average for the past year is that eighteen students have served twenty-eight churches, having welcomed three hundred eighty-one new members into them. The organization, which has a membership of about forty-five, takes a prominent part in the spiritual welfare of the college. Five of the members finishing the course this year plan to leave Bethany for active service. They are Perry Cooke, W. R. Ellis, Clifford Bucy, E. C. Swinger, and J. R. Crandle.

Activities

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford BUCY has been open for the meetings of the Student Volunteer Band which are held every Friday evening.

The first few meetings of this school year were spent by each member telling why he became a Volunteer. The knowledge we gained of each other in these meetings bound us in a close spiritual fellowship that would otherwise have been lacking.

The programs are so arranged that some time is spent in a study of matters pertaining to our future work as missionaries in the foreign field, and some time to prayer. These study periods and circle prayers contribute much to our intellectual and spiritual growth. Then the open meetings which are held the first Friday night of every month are planned so as to create and foster a missionary spirit among our fellow students.

The early fall visit of Miss Dorothy Holiday, a Student Volunteer secretary, and the visit later of Dr. O. J. Granger, a returned missionary from India, greatly inspired every member by their advice and wholesome enthusiasm.

"As one lamp lights another nor grows less So nobleness enkindles nobleness."

—thus the spirit of Neotrophia is transmitted from one class to another, a torch of inspiration never dimming through the ages. For eighty years Neotrophia has shed her radiance over Bethany enkindling nobleness and seeking truth. Storms and winds have sought to quench the flame but the light has never failed. A new spark was added in the fall of 1918 when girls were admitted to the society.

Neotrophia has done splendid work this year. The hall has been remodelled and refurnished, making it a delightful place in which to carry on the work begun by those pioneers who laid the foundations of this elevating institution—John W. McGarvey, Alexander Campbell, J. D. Pickett, John K. Tener and Thomas F. Campbell—whose names must ever be bright upon the annals of Neotrophia.

An old custom has been revived this year, that of wearing a president's badge. William G. Walton, a member of the class of 1877, sent his pin, N. L. S. in monogram, with the motto, "Quaerimus Verum," engraved upon it. This badge is worn by the president of Neotrophia and at the expiration of his term of office passes to his successor.

Thus we see that Neotrophia still plays a vital role in the life of the college and is

"Onward, upward, ever marching Toward the truth we richly prize."

Our earnest hope is that the lamp of Neotrophia lighted so long ago may never grow dim and that nobleness may ever continue to enkindle nobleness.

Adelphian Literary Society now holds its meetings in the new Adelphian Hall, which is located in the Library. A new platform has been built and the former classroom has been transformed by means of new lights, draperies, and floor coverings into a most attractive setting for splendid literary programs.

This opportunity is taken to commend the efforts of the program committee. During the winter term the program committee, of which Ruth McKinnis was chairman, arranged programs having one central theme, such as Painting, Kipling, and Music, for the entire evening.

The crowning event of the year 1920-21 was the Yoho party held the evening of June sixteenth. After a program in the chapel, a party was given in Phillips Hall. The members of A. L. S. are looking forward to this year's Yoho party with keen interest. Miss Mae Yoho, one of the members of the society this year, is the daughter of J. W. Yoho with whom the idea of the Yoho party originated. This party, with an excellent program preceding it, is an institution of Adelphia and is the culminating event of Commencement week.

Neotrophian Literary Society and American Literary Institute were the guests of Adelphia for the illustrated lecture on the Passion Play as presented at Oberammergau which was given by Mrs. Bourne.

The goal set by the founders of Adelphia is the lodestar to our feet today, and so may it ever be.

The American Literary Institute began its career in 1842, when fourteen students of Bethany, representing the youth of seven states, organized a society under the name of the "Bethany Institute." A short time afterward the name was changed to the American Literary Institute. On the twenty-eighth of February, 1843, the society received its charter from the Virginia Legislature. The new organization prospered until the winter of '58, when Bethany College was burned to the ground. All the property of the society, including a library of one thousand volumes, was destroyed in the flames. But with the erection of the new building another hall was provided.

In 1862-63 on account of the small attendance, the literary societies joined forces, but the following year the enrollment was greatly increased, and the Institute was reorganized.

For the second time the society was homeless when in 1879, fire destroyed their quarters. From this time the society met in the class room now used by the Philosophy Department, until active work was suspended in 1913. To the American Literary Institute belongs the honor of first opening its doors to young ladies, in the spring of 1896.

The reorganization of the American Literary Institute was a subject of increasing interest among the students and alumni, especially during the fall term of '21. With the opening of the winter term a number of students, several of whom are daughters and sons of former A. L. I. members, made plans for the reorganization of this historic Institute under the splendid guidance of our Professor Miller. After several preliminary meetings of the group, the reorganization was formally effected on February sixth, 1922.

There are twenty of us, upon whom rests the responsibility of the success of this renowned society. We feel it an honor and a privilege to launch anew this most worthy enterprise. We are hoping by next year to have a home of our own. A. L. I. is fortunate in having four alumni of the society at present officially connected with the college, while two others are on the Bethany High School faculty.

A. L. I. has sent forth many eloquent sons, among whom are numbered seven college presidents. They set for us a worthy ideal in the mastery of the spoken word.

As a guiding principle in the search for truth, our founders chose the motto of Alexander Campbell,

"Lux Descendit E Caelo."
(Light descends from above.)

*As the mighty sea excels the brooklet of the mead,
As the famous warrior all his soldiery doth lead:
So may we excel our peers, if this we only heed,
"Lux Descendit E Caelo."*

The Bethany spirit did not manifest itself in debate until several weeks after school opened. In November a class was organized and negotiations taken up with several colleges whom we thought would be interested. Under Prof. Calhoun, and the other members of the committee we were soon hard at work on the Ohio Conference Question, which was stated as follows, Resolved: that the application of the principle of the closed union shop would serve the best interests of the American people.

For various reasons only one debate was engaged in, that being with Marietta College. With only one member of last year's Varsity out for the team, Bethany's prospects did not at first appear particularly bright, but splendid coaching soon developed two strong teams. Teams that may be justly proud of their record. The negative team journeyed to Marietta and returned victors by a unanimous decision, while the affirmative emerged from a hard battle on the home platform, victors, by a two to one vote. Both wrangles were sharply contested, but strong arguments well presented were too much for them. It is to be regretted that more debates could not be engaged in but with only one member of both teams graduating the prospects for even greater achievements next year are very bright. It is our hope that Bethany will soon gain the same standing in debate and oratory that she now enjoys in athletics.

The fact that H. T. Pease, who was chosen to represent Bethany in oratory this year, did not return to school made it necessary to issue a new call for candidates. Of the five who answered this call, the choice lies between Albert Wilson and Hugh McGuire. Regardless of the final choice it is certain that Bethany will be well represented and the possibilities of victory in the Tri-State Oratorical Contest at Geneva in May are excellent.

The Merry Masquers, the dramatic club of Bethany College, has for its purpose the promoting of interest in dramatic art and literature. Throughout the year 1921-22, the officers aided by the untiring efforts of Professor Bourne have carried out a series of programs which have proved beneficial to the college as well as to the members.

These programs have consisted of short one-act plays and the study of some poets. At the first meeting, held in November, a group of twelve members presented the play, "And The Lamp Went Out." "Christmas in Flannegan's Flat" was given by group two on December sixteenth, and a keener spirit of Christmas was felt by all those who saw the way in which "Pat" observed his Christmas with the children. On January twentieth the club met to study the life and works of Vachel Lindsay, a modern American poet. This poet came to the college through the efforts of the club on March fourteenth. The inspiration of his poetry and his high ideals was felt by all who heard him. This was probably the zenith of the club's success, for the chapel was crowded with eager listeners and Mr. Lindsay presented "The Congo," "The Sante Fe Trail" and many other poems in a very pleasing manner.

The club presents annually a large play on the campus at commencement and for 1922 "Love's Labours Lost" has been selected and is being prepared with the earnest desire that it shall be as successful as those presented before.

BERTHA MCCOLLUM

The Glee Club

During the season of 1922 the Glee Club maintained the same high standard of excellence established by clubs of previous years. The concert tours were regarded as great successes, especially the Ohio trip, through which territory a Bethany Glee Club had never been before. Lancaster, Gambier, Mt. Vernon, Millersburg, Cayahuga Falls, Kent, Youngstown and Cleveland in Ohio, and Beaver, Pennsylvania, being visited. Three days were spent in Cleveland, where the club sang to several thousand high school students and also sang anthems at the Glenville and Colinwood Christian Churches on Sunday, besides singing to a packed house the previous night. The spring trip was of seven days duration, and took the club the entire length of Pennsylvania.

The College was complimented on the excellent singing of the Club, which far surpassed that of any other club which sang in the cities visited. Comment was made on the gentlemanly conduct of the men, characteristic of Bethany teams,—and appreciated more when it is known that there was no faculty representative with the club.

Great credit is due Professor Jean C. Moos, who is the director, for the excellent program and the manner in which it was worked up and presented. The club's successes are due in a great measure to the labor of Professor Moos, who trained the club throughout the fall and winter.

Douglas Riblet, business manager of the club, spared neither time nor effort to make the club a success. At a great personal sacrifice Mr. Riblet led the club through its most successful season, covering thousands of miles of ground and singing to thousands of delighted people, including many high school audiences.

The Club was fortunate in having as artists, Mr. H. E. Hufford, tenor, Mr. C. D. Mulkin, pianist, and Mr. R. C. Lankler, reader. These men are specialists in their respective fields, and were in great demand by the enthusiastic audiences which heard the concerts.

The College Band

The band was organized October 25, 1921, through the efforts of Professor Bernal R. Weimar. There were sixteen members in the organization originally, but the movement was received with real enthusiasm so that the growth was rapid. Before three months had gone by the personnel had been increased to thirty-five. Not only was the band supported eagerly by the students, but the College Administration also proved their approbation of the enterprise by giving approximately one thousand dollars for equipment.

The band has taken an active part in student affairs. Two trips were made with the football team after the organization had been effected, one to Pittsburgh on November 11, and the other to Wheeling one week later. A concert was given in the College chapel on February 3, and since then the band has played for a number of student gatherings, so that the organization is now a strong factor in our college life.

FOREWORD

No, we don't get paid for writing and copying this crazy stuff. We simply know human nature well enough to know that the first thing you will look for is to see how many times your name appears in print and how often your picture is there. We want you to notice the advertisements so we use these little jokes merely as a tempting bait. Oh, Vanity! How thou makest children of us all!

AS SHAKESPEARE WOULD SAY

"We love not the humor of bread and cheese."—Hall Girls.
 "I frown upon him, yet he loves me still."—Miss Newman.
 "Oh, God, that I were a man."—Miss Mudge.
 "I must to the barbers, monsieur."—Pomeroy.
 "I'll run away till I am bigger, but then I'll fight."—Jaras.
 "I am a wise man."—Beatty.
 "I remember when I was in love."—Miss Smith.
 "Sir, I am a gentleman that have spent much."—McCormick.
 "I am almost afraid to stand here alone in the church yard."—Schell.
 "Let me play the fool."—Pritchard.
 "We do intreat pardon our wrongs."—The Editors.

Mrs. Bourne—"What tense is 'I love?'"
 Wolford (Looking at Emily with knowing eyes)—"Intense."

Prof. Workman—"The substance you see in this vial is the most deadly poison of all. A single drop placed on the tongue of a cat is enough to kill the strongest man."

WE WOULD LIKE TO KNOW

Who tailors Prof. Yaney's clothes?
 Any question that has not been settled by the Seniors?
 Which way the Buffalo flows?
 Prof. Rast (To postmistress)—"Have you got any mail for me?"
 Postmistress—"What is your name?"
 Prof.—"You will find it on the envelope."

Most any ex-S. A. T. C.—"Now when I was in the army—"

FOR CATALOGUE ADDRESS,

CLOYD GOODNIGHT, Pres.

GONE ARE THE DAYS—

When fainting was a fad.
When natural blushes were in vogue.
When students "Burned the midnight oil."
When only "les enfants" enjoyed bobbed hair.
When the chaperone ruled supreme.
When sweeping skirts served as germ collectors.
When "The Youth's Companion" was the only kind of literature indulged in by the younger set.
When the waltz was considered an immodest dance.
When "Mamma's Angel Child" lived up to her name.
When the world was perfect n' everything.

— — — — —
*I sit alone in the twilight,
Forsaken by girls and men,
And murmur over and over,
"I'll never eat onions again."*

— — — — —
Prof. Woolery—"What could be so sad as a man without a country?"
Olive M.—"A country without a man."

— — — — —
Schwinger (In minstrel)—"Dat am a joke, folks."

— — — — —
Irene—"Do you sing "Forever and Ever?"
Hufford—"No, I stop for meals."

— — — — —
Broadley—"Of all the little things in life, I am the smallest."

— — — — —
Gomer (Suffering with the flu)—"I am dying. I know it. Go to Rosemary; tell her I love her and have always loved her, that I died with her name upon my lips. And Mildred, well tell her and Martha the same thing."

— — — — —
The woman pays, but the man is always broke.

ATTENTION!

Those who have been losing their hair by that contagious disease called dandruff, will be pleased to learn at last that Prof. J. C. Moos, I. O. U., P. D. Q.,
S. O. L., has discovered a formula that will put an end to human suffering. Prof.
Moos is going to present this formula to Cooper, Herring, Higgs, Adkins, Danford, and a few others for approval. This great aid to mankind reads as follows:

"To produce hair on the head, soak the head in salt water until the hair gets dry, then when it comes out for a drink, grab it and tie it in a knot."

Lottie—"Did you see me come in?"

Rast—"Yes."

Lottie—"Did you ever see me before?"

Rast—"No."

Lottie—"Then how did you know it was me?"

— — — — —

A recent count at Phillips Hall embraced 103 girls. Good work, Count.
One woman in Wellsburg is worth three in Bethany.

— — — — —

Paul Schafer (at meat shop)—"What kind of meat have you this morning?"

Butcher—"Some steak as tender as a woman's heart."

Schafer—"I'll take sausage."

— — — — —

A summer night, a maid, and a man, has frequently caused an early fall.

— — — — —

*I pressed thy full round mouth to mine own
In ecstasy;
I drew the fragrant perfume of thee
Into me.
My trembling hand about thy slender neck
With a curse! for I knew
That thou wast empty, little pint bottle.*

— — — — —

Shoemake—"Were you ever pinched for going too fast?"

Adkins—"No, but I've been slapped."

— — — — —

Eisen—"What for you go up dem shtairs two at a time?"

Stien—"To safe my shoes, fader."

Eisen—"Dot's right, my son; but look out you don't shplit your pants."

— — — — —

Put on your muzzle, father, here comes the dog-catcher.

— — — — —

They shot him with limburger cheese and then killed him for smelling bad.

— — — — —

As thou hast made thy bed, why lie about it.

— — — — —

Ikey kicked in the bathroom door and discovered Rebecca dead in the bathtub. For a moment he gazed, horror-stricken, then rushed to the head of the stairs and shouted to the maid, "Mary, Mary!"

"Yes, sir," answered the maid

"Only von egg for breakfast this morning, Mary."

— — — — —

Eczema, Oh! Eczema! Don't be so rash.

Get thee behind me Satan. Thou are much too slow for the modern generation.

My girl is fat and low.
Sam's girl wears silks and satins;
My girl wears calico.
Sam's girl is swift and speedy;
My girl, demure and good.
Do you think I'd swap for Sam's girl?
You know darn well I would.*

*The co-eds are a noisy lot,
I like 'em;
They make you blow the cash you've got,
I like 'em;
They call you tight—they think you're green,
Unless you shell out every bean;
They're the worst darn pests I ever seen,
I like 'em.*
